The Tait name is synonymous with Australian racing and breeding, Sandy owning numerous elite horses over many decades - none more so than Tie The Knot (Nassipour) - while studmaster Olly Tait is one of the most respected industry figures around the world.

James Tait, son of Sandy and brother of Olly, has also demonstrated that he knows a little bit about the inexact science of breeding a good thoroughbred racehorse.

The Gunnong-Jugrawah-based farmer, whose dulcet tones can be heard calling many race meetings across southern NSW, bred and races Jojo Was A Man (Al Maher), the $3.50 favourite for tomorrow's $160,000 Winter Challenge (Listed, 1500m) at Randwick.

Winter Challenge a bridge to spring gold

The long-awaited Australian debut of French import Gold Trip (Outstrip) will take place tomorrow with the high-class French Group 1 performer set to start in the Winter Challenge (Listed, 1500m) at Randwick. Gold Trip was set to start in last year's Cox Plate (Gr 1, 2040m) at Moonee Valley, but was withdrawn on race eve when Racing Victoria vets ruled he was lame.

Not bad for the first foal by Al Maher (Danehill), an underrated stallion in the twilight of his career, out of Jo Jo Girl (Reset), a mare Tait and his friends paid $3,500 for (not forgetting the GST on top) in early 2013 as a three-start unplaced maiden from John Baxter, a well-known owner and breeder who races under the Ruane Menangle banner.

"We were just looking for a horse to have a bit of fun with and win a few races in the bush. She won six, we won the Picnic Cup and the Aggies Cup at Wagga, which was a great thrill on a couple of big days down at Wagga," James Tait recalled this week.

"We stepped her up to 2500 metres at Wagga as a late four-year-old and then she went to Sydney at her next start and she won over 2590 metres and she won by about three lengths at 40-1, so that was very exciting."

Trained by Tim Donnelly at Wagga, Jo Jo Girl won connections about $150,000 in prize-money and she was a nose away from being stakes-placed, finishing fourth in the 2015 McKell Cup (Listed, 2400m) at Randwick in May 2015.

Her racetrack deeds were enough to convince the majority of the syndicate - led by Tait and Dominic Neate - to breed with her, and Jojo Was A Man has certainly justified the decision, despite the gelding causing his owners a few headaches early days.

"He was broken in by Ryan Pendergast down at Narrandera and he had to go back to Ryan's a couple of times and then he went to David Blundell's at Gundagai for a bit more education to try and get him right to go to Sydney," Tait said.

"Ryan and David did a great job because he was a bit of a handful. He was quirky, he was a young horse who was a bit immature and maybe a bit nervous.

"We took a while to get him there [to Thompson's], but once he was there John said he showed ability from day one."

Thompson was also proven right, with the autumn three-year-old winning his first start on the Kensington track at Randwick, and his development since has connections plotting a course to the $2 million The Ingham - formerly the Villiers Stakes - (Gr 2, 1600m) at Randwick in December.

"On breeding, Jo Jo Girl was basically a mile-and-a-half horse and Al Maher has sired some good stayers... but he's also sired some good milers and I think John sees him as a miler.

"He ran over 1800 metres (three times last preparation), but at this stage John feels his best would be around 1600, I think, because he can get a little bit keen in his races.

"He is going to run him in the Winter Challenge this Saturday and then try to come back for the Villiers, which is now called The Ingham."

Jo Jo Girl has a two-year-old sister to Jojo Was A Man, the unraced California Grass, in training with Thompson, plus she has a weanling filly by Twin Hills' Hallowed Crown (Street Sense) and is in foal to Shamus Award (Snitzel).

Tait has already booked her back into the Rosemont Stud roster leader this year.

"We started breeding Jo Jo Girl to have a bit of fun, so I'd say we'd stay on that path, but also with Shamus Award we do have the commercial option as well," he said.

"He has gone up in price, but what he's done has been fantastic, it's incredible in terms of him siring a Caulfield Cup winner and so on.

"I suppose he gives you as good a chance as any stallion to get a really top stayer, horses that are going to run in Caulfield Cups, Cox Plates and Oaks and those sorts of races."

Jo Jo Girl may not be Tie The Knot but she holds a special place in the heart of James Tait.

"She ran second and third in a Gundagai Cup and she ran midfield in a couple of Wagga Cups and she had those great runs in Sydney," he said.

"She won six and we only paid $3850 for her. She won $150,000 in prize-money and any horse who can do that is a top horse, I reckon."

Winter Challenge a bridge to spring gold

Gold Trip

The long-awaited Australian debut of French import Gold Trip (Outstrip) will take place tomorrow with the high-class French Group 1 performer set to start in the Winter Challenge (Listed, 1500m) at Randwick. Gold Trip was set to start in last year's Cox Plate (Gr 1, 2040m) at Moonee Valley, but was withdrawn on race eve when Racing Victoria vets ruled he was lame. A subsequent foot issue ended plans to run him during the Sydney autumn, however, the Ciaran Maher and David Eustace-trained five-year-old will have his first race start since July last year when he lines up on Saturday. Eustace told Sky Sports radio that Saturday's race is an important fact-finding mission. "It is a race for us to learn a little bit more about him, but we are just looking forward to getting him back to the races for the owners," Eustace said. "The horse should have run in the spring, and we got held up in the autumn for another reason. His European form suggests he is a 2000 and 2400 (-metre horse), but you see time and time again these horses come over and acclimatise and have just a little bit more sharpness when they step out." A Group 2 winner and twice Group 1-placed in France, Gold Trip also finished

Home Affairs lands at Coolmore Australia

Home Affairs (I Am Invincible), the two-time Group 1-winning sprinter, yesterday arrived at his new home, the pristine Coolmore Australia farm at Jerrys Plains, in preparation for his first season at stud.

The racing career of three-year-old Home Affairs was brought to a close after his trip to Royal Ascot in the UK, where he was unplaced in the Platinum Jubilee Stakes (Gr 1, 6f). However, his earlier victories on his home turf this season, including the Coolmore Stud Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) and Lightning Stakes (Gr 1, 1000m) at Flemington, have cemented his place as a standout stallion prospect.

Tom Magnier was delighted to have Home Affairs, the pin-up for Coolmore's colts partnership which was established the year the son of I Am Invincible (Invincible Spirit) was purchased for $875,000, back in the Hunter Valley.

"The winner of the Coolmore - by daylight - and the Lightning, from Nature Strip and Eduardo; Home Affairs was clearly the best sprinter of his generation," Coolmore Australia principal Magnier enthused yesterday.

"A Silver Slipper winner at two, this son of I Am Invincible was the first three-year-old since Fastnet Rock in 2005 to win the Lightning and he did it in faster time than both Fastnet Rock and Choisir.

"Those are sire-line and performance credentials enough for any stallion. Now add to the mix the sire-producing family of Encosta De Lago, Flying Spur and Russian Revolution. Home Affairs is as magnificent a specimen as ever retired to stud - big, strong and beautiful, with a great galloping action.

"We can't wait to show him off to breeders."

Standing for $110,000 (inc GST), Home Affairs will receive strong support from his powerful syndicate as well as outside breeders.

Among the mares set to be covered by the first season sire are Oakleigh Plate (Gr 1, 1100m) winner Booker (Written Tycoon), champion filly Sunlight (Zoustar) and Group 2 winner Champagne Cuddles (Not A Single Doubt).

fourth in the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe and has a NSW benchmark rating of 114, equal to that of his fellow Australian Bloodstock-owned Mugatoo (Henrythenavigator) with the pair the class runners in the race. Eustace said that if he races well, Gold Trip is likely to be freshened up for the George Main Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m) on September 17 and later, a second chance at a Cox Plate start. "I think 1500 [metres] is actually ideal for him to have his first start and his second-up run is then going to really identify where he goes, but we'd like to end up running in a Cox Plate with him," Eustace said. The stable will also be represented in the Winter Challenge by stakes performer Charleise (Foxwedge), who is coming off a Listed placing on a heavy track in Brisbane. Unbeaten in two starts at the distance and with the benefit of race fitness, Eustace believes the mare could be the surprise packet. "She will handle the conditions, she's fit, she's got runs under her belt, a lovely weight. I think she will run a really big race," he said.

Nakeeta Jane's brother on notice

Mindspace (So You Think) has a chance to retain his colt status with a professional display on debut at Randwick tomorrow. The two-year-old brother to Group 1 winner Nakeeta Jane is one of nine runners declared for the Elite Sand & Soil Handicap (1200m) at Randwick on Saturday, but trainer Mark Newnham says Mindspace will have to behave if he is to remain a colt. "The main objective is to turn him into a good racehorse and that is probably as a gelding," Newnham said, hoping the addition of blinkers tomorrow will help focus Mindspace. "You end up encouraging their bad traits the longer you keep them a colt. He is quite talented, but he hasn't displayed that in the trials, and he is a bit inconsistent in his work. I thought I'd give him one opportunity as a colt. I just didn't necessarily want to run him on heavy ground and give him an excuse, but there may not be time to wait for a dry track." Newnham trained Nakeeta Jane to win the 2019 Surround Stakes (Gr 1, 1400m) and paid $310,000 for Mindspace as a yearling at the 2021 Inglis Australian Easter yearling sale. "I've trained a lot of the family and they have all been a bit different," Newnham said. "He is probably the best type she [dam Lustre Lady] has thrown. Being by So You Think, he should get better as he gets older. It's just about getting him focused enough to turn him into a good racehorse."

O'Sullivan squares up to Gold Ingot

Ballarat-based trainer Dan O'Sullivan has enjoyed a fruitful association with breeder David Peacock and is aiming to build on that success when Berkeley Square (Territories) runs in the VOBIS Gold Ingot (1400m) at Caulfield on Saturday. O'Sullivan trained Berkeley Square's dam Bahamas (Teofilo) to finish third in the Australasian Oaks (Gr 1, 2000m) with Bahamas, a half-sister to Affair To Remember (Toronado) who O'Sullivan trained for Peacock to win the Matriarch Stakes (Gr 2, 2000m) at Flemington. "He's been a prolific breeder for a long time and it happens too often for him for it to be a fluke," O'Sullivan said of the half-brother to Senor Toba (Toronado), a Group 3 winner in Australia for Chris Waller and subsequently a Group 3 winner in Hong Kong. Berkeley Square scored on debut in a 1347m maiden at Geelong on May 13 under Alana Kelly, who retains the ride tomorrow, however, a minor leg issue forced O'Sullivan to abandon plans to tackle the Taj Rossi Series and switch to Saturday's $175,000 race. "He cut his leg at home and I had to back off him for a bit," O'Sullivan said. "But he was ticking over too well and it was too cold to put him out in the paddock, so I thought we'd go to this race and suss out what we're going to do with him going forward." O'Sullivan is not totally happy with drawing barrier one. "It's not a big field, but it looks quite a good race and I'm a bit disappointed with barrier one," he said. "Things are going to have to fall our way around the home turn for us to be at our best and he's never seen Caulfield, which is another asterisk I've got on him."

Drier track to suit Felicia

A drying track at Caulfield could be just what rising six-year-old mare Felicia (Unencumbered) needs to post a career best win in Saturday's Bletchingly Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m). Trainer Dean Binaisse said an improving track on Saturday, rated a Soft 6 on Thursday afternoon with dry weather predicted for Melbourne, would be to Felicia's liking. "Craig Williams is on board now, she worked well on Tuesday morning when we gave her a mate to chase down and she hit the line really hard," Binaisse said. "She's spot on. She can roll up outside Sartorial Splendour and I think she's going to be hard to beat." Felicia has raced only twice in the last 21 months due to injury, Binaisse explaining Felicia cooled down sore behind following her third-place finish in the VOBIS Gold Sprint (1200m) at Caulfield in April 2021 and scintigraphy could not isolate where the problem lay. "We decided to give her a good spell, so she missed the spring, and she can't race in the summer because the tracks are too hard," Binaisse said. "I deliberately aimed for earlier in the spring this year knowing the tracks wouldn't be too hard. What path we take depends on what happens on Saturday. I've got

Caulfield assault for Taut You Could

Trainer Greg Eurell is counting on a change in race conditions to enable his talented two-year-old Taut You Could (O'Lonhro) to reverse his last-start form with Thron Bone (Thronum) in the MRC Membership Renewal Handicap (1200m) at Caulfield on Saturday. A winner on debut at Cranbourne last November, Taut You Could finished fifth behind Thron Bone over 1100m at Caulfield on June 25 when resuming and meets Thron Bone, since a winner at Flemington, again tomorrow with a slight weight advantage. Eurell said there were legitimate excuses where he was trapped wide from an awkward draw. "He was a bit fresh and doing a bit of extra work out there on his accord, but I think with that run under his belt, it's helped him along a bit," Eurell said. "His work was really good on Tuesday morning, quite sharp, and I'm pretty happy with the barrier he's drawn on Saturday to give him a better opportunity, so I'm looking forward to the race. It's a nice enough field that he is up against, but I think the horse has got good ability and he's ready to take the step second-up." Although it is four weeks since Taut You Could last raced, Eurell said Saturday's race was the only suitable one on the calendar. "It's a bit tricky with the two-year-olds sometimes, especially when you want to be running in town," Eurell said. "We see him as a 1200-metre horse, and that's all that was available, but I don't think it will hurt him. He was able to have a soft week after his first-up run. We were able to let him recover and then build him back up again. He's a pretty fit horse and we're just hoping it works for him on Saturday."

Werribee jump outs for spring contenders

Four-time Group 1 winner Tofane (Ocean Park) will get her spring campaign under way with a jump out at Werribee this morning. The six-year-old was sold to Yulong Investment for $3.1 million at the Magic Millions National Sale at the Gold Coast in June and returned to trainer Mike Moroney with a date with Written Tycoon in between two or possibly three more races. Tofane is drawn in the third heat over 800 metres where she will face fellow Group 1 winners Mr Brightside (Bullbars) and Callsign Mav (Atlante), as well as promising import Sinawann (Kingman) and Showmanship (Showcasing). It will be the first public appearance of the Ben and J D Hayes-trained Mr Brightside since he took out the Doncaster Handicap (Gr 1, 1600m) at Randwick in April. "He's in excellent order. I'm really happy with the way he's building up," Ben Hayes said. "I'd like to think he'll take the next step this spring after we took the conservative approach and gave him a break after the Doncaster. Looking at him physically, he's got a nice healthy coat on him, he's strengthened a little bit. He doesn't need to improve much and if he holds his form from last prep, he'll be in for a good campaign." Hayes is also looking forward to promising import Makram (Make Believe) who is slated to go in the fifth heat. Makram has only raced twice in Australia, winning impressively at his second run over 1700m at Flemington on Anzac Day. "He's our Caulfield Cup horse," Hayes said. "He's got good form over 2400 metres overseas and is an exciting horse that has acclimatised well."

San Domenico target for Nettuno

Unbeaten Brisbane two-year-old Nattuno (I Am Invincible) is set to have the first of two trials in two weeks' time as connections ready him for his next campaign. The Tony Gollan-trained colt is set to make his competitive reappearance in next month's San Domenico Stakes (Gr 3, 1100m) at Rosehill.

Another winner for under-the-radar De Gaulle

Bonjour De Gaulle (De Gaulle) gave his sire a second winner within a week with a winning debut at Cranbourne on Thursday. Bonjour De Gaulle started favourite for the Maiden Plate (1000m) on the strength of an impressive barrier trial earlier this month and the booking of Craig Williams to ride. Bonjour De Gaulle went forward to race outside the leader and went clear into the home straight, going on to defeat the fast finishing Mothereens (Squamosa) by a length. Williams told Racing.com he was impressed with the win. "He's been well managed by his owners and I've always been told his trainer Trevor Rogers is a great conditioner and a great horseman and he made my job easy today," said Williams. "He drew the outside barrier for his first start and had to do a lot of work, but he gave me full confidence. He was too good for these horses and has a really nice future." Bonjour de Gaulle is the fourth winner from eight runners from the crop of 15 foals by the unraced De Gaulle (Exceed And Excel), a half-brother to Golden Slipper Stakes winner Estijaab (Snitzel) from dual Group 1 winner Response (Charge Forward). De Gaulle stands in conjunction with Quilly Park at Bombora Downs in Victoria where his fee has been set at $5,500 (inc GST) for 2022.

Campbell Rawiller returning to Victoria

Campbell Rawiller's stay in South Australia is about to end with the jockey confirming he will return to Victoria next month. Rawiller has enjoyed a successful spell riding in South Australia for the Ryan Balfour stable, but has confirmed he will return home to Victoria having purchased a property near Warragul where he plans to mix his riding with training greyhounds. "My last meeting will be on the 30th (of July)," Rawiller told Racing SA. "I've bought a property back home and am keen to get that up and going and it will be nice to get home with the family. The greyhounds are a passion, along with horse racing and it's something I am keen to try and balance when I get home. I feel having something like that outside of racing is really important," he said. Rawiller says he will not be lost to the South Australian riding ranks with the plan to make hit-and-run trips to ride in Adelaide on weekends. "The plan will be to ride here on Saturday's when the opportunities present themselves," Rawiller said. "I've had the best experience here, the people have been great. Ryan [Balfour] said he'd really back me before I came and he's given me every opportunity, he's had my back the whole time. I had two metro winners last year, to come over and get 14 here was fantastic," he said.

Kilner on the improve

Apprentice jockey Leah Kilner continues to make improvements following injuries sustained in a fall at Grafton on July 3. Kilner was airlifted to Princess Alexandra Hospital in Brisbane, where she was placed in an induced coma and was being treated for a possible brain injury. In an update posted by Racing NSW on Thursday, Kilner's continual improvement was noted. "Leah continues to make steady progress and is getting lots of sleep," the statement said. "She is leaving her hospital room more often and is enjoying wheelchair rides around the hospital. Doctors are hopeful she can move to the rehabilitation ward when she is well enough next week."

Meredith making progress

Apprentice jockey Elissa Meredith is pleasing doctors with her condition following a race fall at Gunnedah on July 4. Meredith has been waking for short periods, eating and drinking on her own and is more alert and aware of her family in recent days. A statement issued by Racing NSW yesterday states, "Elissa continues to make steady progress and got out of bed for the first time today. She walked across the room with assistance, making her first steps since the fall on July 4th."

Jockeys' agent granted stay of proceedings

Jockey agent Mark Van Triet is appealing the length of a four-and-a-half month disqualification imposed by Racing NSW stewards on Wednesday, after pleading guilty to charges stemming from a local rule relating to betting and/or having "an interest in bets on NSW races, being bets on races upon which a rider he represented, on the day such bets were made, held an engagement to ride in". Van Triet, whose riders include three-time Melbourne Cup winner Damien Oliver, Brenton Avdulla, Regan Bayliss, Chad and Glyn Schofield, has been granted a stay of proceedings until August 29.

Kembla Grange postponed

Thursday's Kembla Grange meeting was postponed before the first of seven races began, due to the state of the track. Listed as a heavy (8), the course received 17mm of rain overnight with surface water present on the track and following a track inspection by Racing NSW stewards the meeting was postponed to a date yet to be fixed.

NEW ZEALAND

12 for Hellbent

Hellbent

YARRAMAN PARK STUD

Hellbent (I Am Invincible) continued his red-hot run yesterday when Tantrums (2 f ex Layo Layo by Encosta De Lago) became the 12th winner from his first crop when winning a maiden over 800 metres at Hastings, his sire's first New Zealand victory. Trained by Simon and Katrina Alexander, Tantrums beat Written Up (Wrote) by a length and a quarter. The Diviner (Darci Brahma) finished third, beaten by four lengths. Purchased by Stanton Thoroughbreds for $15,000 at the Inglis March (Early) Online Sale, Tantrums is out of six-time-winning mare Layo Layo (Encosta De Lago). Hellbent will stand the upcoming breeding season at Yarraman Stud for a fee of $22,000 (inc GST).

Dragon Leap nearing return

Dual Group 2-winner Dragon Leap (Pierro) is on target to resume at Ruakaka next month ahead of chasing further stakes success in the spring. The rising six-year-old delighted his connections with his effort for fourth in a 950m trial under jockey Craig Grylls on the synthetic track at Cambridge, earlier this week. Dragon Leap has not raced since January when finishing fourth in the Concorde Handicap (Gr 3, 1200m) at Ellerslie. He will return to racing in an 1100m handicap at Ruakaka on August 6. "The team was incredibly pleased with him and Craig came in and gave him a glowing report. He pulled up really sound, which was great as we have had our challenges with him with his feet," co-trainer Andrew Scott said. "We believe that is all behind him now and that would possibly be one of his best trials. We understand that it was only a trial and we're a long way away from where we want to be. It was so encouraging though and we have high hopes that he is going to have a successful season." Dragon Leap won three races during his classic season, including the Auckland Guineas (Gr 2, 1600m) and the Avondale Guineas (Gr 2, 1600m) as well as finishing fourth in the New Zealand Derby (Gr 1, 2400m). "We are hoping to get a couple of runs into him before he heads to Hastings. We just want to get a racing preparation into him, his campaigns have been marred by viruses and injuries, so we want to get some regular racing into him," Scott said. "Since he was a three-year-old it has been so far from that."

Casey Lock back in training ranks

Waikato horsewoman Casey Lock returns to the training ranks at Rotorua on Saturday where she will saddle Viktor Vegas (Tavistock). Formerly trained by her father Peter, the gelding came into Casey's care two years ago when his form tapered off. While the plan was for Viktor Vegas to be her sport horse, the rising nine-year-old flourished so much during his time away from the track that she approached breeder-owner Bob Emery to see if he could make a race comeback. "Dad trained him for Bob Emery and he was in and out over Covid and trained off a bit," Lock said, "When he came back in he didn't really perform up to standard, so Bob and Dad agreed that he would be retired and I was lucky enough to be given him as a sport horse. He did so well having a break, it's the longest he has had off his entire career. We did some hunt practice days and fiddled around doing bits and pieces at home like dressage and jumping. He turned a corner, grew, and filled out. He looked so well that I rang Bob and asked him if it was possible to give him another go, and he leased him to me as a racing proposition." Viktor Vegas returned to the track last year and finished fourth in the Balmerino Stakes (Gr 3, 2000m) at Rotorua last November. "He was in work with Dad last preparation and he had seven starts for two wins and was fourth in a Group Three, beaten by one length. It was amazing," Lock said. Viktor Vegas was subsequently given to Lock by Emery and she decided to take out her owner-trainer license this year to race the gelding herself, having formerly trained in partnership with her father for four seasons more than a decade ago. "The nerves have already kicked in, but I am really looking forward to it," she said.

Walker chasing hometown cup success

Mark Walker has trained Group 1 winners in New Zealand and Singapore but is hopeful Aromatic (Sacred Falls) can give him a win in his old hometown cup on Saturday. A five-time New Zealand champion trainer with Te Akau Racing, Walker grew up in coastal Taranaki and attended Opunake High School before heading to Waikato to pursue a career in racing. He has gone close to winning the Opunake Cup (Listed, 1400m) before when Zamfir finished second to Kenadaad in the 2007 race at New Plymouth. Aromatic finished runner-up last time out in the Rangitikei Cup (Listed, 1600m) at Trentham in May. "It would be nice to win an Opunake Cup. That's my old home town," Walker said. "Because this is a Listed race and she's at a good place in the handicap, we just want to try and get a stakes win before she gets up in the weights. She's stakes placed from Wellington. She ran really well that day, but it was a pretty hard run and we gave her a pretty easy time of it afterwards, just on the water treadmill." The five-year-old mare will be ridden by Joe Kamaruddin, and is priced as the $9 fourth favourite in the TAB's final field market on Thursday. "It's come up stronger than normal but they can't win it sitting in their box," Walker said, unsure if Aromatic would handle a really heavy track. "It just depends how they get through the ground this time of year. We haven't had many runners of late. We just don't tend to have that many heavy-trackers. We've just got to see how she gets through the ground."

First for Cracksman

Cracksman (Frankel) sired his first stakes winner when his daughter Dance In The Grass (2 f ex Dance The Dream by Sir Percy) made it two wins from as many starts with a victory in yesterday's Star Stakes (Listed, 7f) at Sandown. Trained in partnership by Mark and Charlie Johnston, the filly kept on well to follow up her course and distance win last month with a three-quarters of a length win over Fairy Cross (Dubawi). There was a gap of six lengths back to the third home, Lady Alara (Invincible Spirit). A 57,000gns buy out of Book 1 at Tattersalls, Dance In The Grass is the first foal out of the Listed-placed winner Dance The Dream (Sir Percy). Cracksman stands at Darley's Dalham Hall Stud where his 2022 fee was listed as £17,500 (approx. AU$30,340).

26 for Toronado

Jouza (3 f ex Rasmiya by Galileo) became the 26th individual stakes winner for Toronado (High Chaparral) when striking in yesterday's Prix Madame Jean Couturie (Listed, 2000m) at Vichy. The filly was winning for the third time in six starts as she beat Perle Rouge (Zelzal) by two lengths. Blue Wings (Wings Of Eagles) was just a nose further away in third. Bred by owners Al Shaqab Racing, Jouza is the second foal out of the winning Galileo (Sadler's Wells) mare Rasmiya. Toronado will once again shuttle to Swettenham Stud where he will stand for a fee of $80,000 (plus GST).

199 for Exceed And Excel

Exceed And Excel (Danehill) edged closer to his double century of individual stakes winners when Pirate Jenny (3 f ex Chica Whopa by Oasis Dream) landed the Yeomanstown Stud Stakes (Listed, 6f) at Naas on Wednesday evening to take his tally on to 199. The Ger Lyons-trained filly beat Sablonne (Dark Angel) by three-quarters of a length with favourite Sacred Bridge (Bated Breath) another head away in third. A 105,000gns purchase out of Book 1 at Tattersalls, Pirate Jenny is the sixth foal out of Chica Whopa (Oasis Dream) making her a half-sister to Group 2 winner Barraquero (Zebedee). Exceed And Excel will stand the upcoming breeding season at Darley's Kelvinside for a fee of $132,000 (inc GST).

First for Havana Grey

Lady Hollywood (2 f ex Dubai Legend by Cadeaux Genereux) became the first stakes winner for Havana Grey (Havana Gold) when she landed the Marwell Stakes (Listed, 5f) at Naas on Wednesday. Trained by Alice Haynes, the British raider beat favourite Mauiewowie (Night Of Thunder) by a length and a half, with Treasure Trove (Siyouni) a further length and a quarter away in third. Lady Hollywood is the eighth foal out of Dubai Legend (Cadeaux Genereux), making her a half-sister to four winners. Havana Grey stood the 2022 northern hemisphere breeding season at Whitsbury Manor Stud for a fee of £6,000 (approx. AU$10,380).

THE WEEK IN ROWE-VIEW

Every Friday in ANZ, lead reporter Tim Rowe delivers his thoughts on the week that's been, discussing the prevalent issues in racing and stories beyond the headlines

The immediate attention of John Kelly will be on the Group 2-placed mare Mariamia (Toronado) in tomorrow's Bletchingly Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) at Caulfield, but the Newhaven Park principal also has plenty to look forward to when the new season kicks off.

Kelly part-owns dual Group 1-winning entire Mo'unga (Savabeel) - a rising five-year-old trained by Annabel Neasham - who will take up residence at the Boorowa stud in 2023, as well as Group 1-placed colt Brosnan (Snitzel), a rising three-year-old bred and raised at Newhaven.

Mo'unga will have his first public hit out at Warwick Farm in a course proper 900-metre barrier trial this morning.

"They're actually very excited about him. He's matured a lot and got a lot stronger and he's still behaving beautifully and doing everything right," Kelly said this week.

"[Jockey] Tommy Berry had a sit on him last Saturday week ago and he was very complimentary about how he's going. Everything's in order to head to the Winx Stakes first-up after a couple of trials."

Mo'unga won the Winx Stakes last August, defeating Verry Elleegant (Zed), adding to his Rosehill Guineas (Gr 1, 2000m) success earlier in the calendar year. Berry will ride Mo'unga in this morning's barrier trial.

Meanwhile, Brosnan - a $1.05 million purchase from Newhaven by Kitchwin Hills' Mick Malone at last year's Magic Millions sale - is back in training with Gerald Ryan and Sterling Alexiou at Rosehill.

The colt, whose Written Tycoon half-sister was bought by Te Akau Racing for $800,000 on the Gold Coast in January, won at Flemington in May and then ran-on strongly to finish third behind Sheeza Belter (Gold Standard) and Political Debate (So You Think) in the J J Atkins Plate (Gr 1, 1600m) on June 11.

"I saw a video last week of him at Gerald's and they're very happy with him. He's on the right trajectory, hopefully, for the spring and I think they're going to try and get him ready for the Golden Rose," Kelly suggested.

"He's just really suffered from the wet tracks in the autumn. If you have a look at his dry track form, he ran fourth in the VRC Sires where he was desperately unlucky and he went back to Melbourne over 1400 metres off an eight-week break and won.

"He then ran third in the J J Atkins. They're his only three dry-track runs in his life. His form is really good, but those bottomless tracks in the autumn were really tough on him."

Brosnan has been put up as a $51 chance for the Golden Rose and $41 for the Caulfield Guineas.

Supara (Domesday), the dam of Brosnan, has a weanling filly by Capitalist (Written Tycoon) and she is in foal to Vinery Stud's young sire Ole Kirk (Written Tycoon), who completed the Rose-Guineas double in 2020.

News Limited has been rolling out a list of Australian "racing's most powerful people". Predictably, Racing NSW supremo Peter V'landys was anointed as NSW's most powerful; leading trainer, Chris Waller features highly as does Arrowfield's John Messara, while down south Racing Victoria's new CEO Andrew Jones and RV chair Brian Kruger are high on the list alongside jockeys Jamie Kah and Damien Oliver.

Inglis' Mark Webster (should it now be Sebastian Hutch?) and Magic Millions owner Gerry Harvey and the auction house's MD Barry Bowditch were also on the list.

Of more interest to me was who didn't make the list, however. Perhaps two people who have a huge influence over the fortunes or otherwise of owners, trainers and, by extension, jockeys who didn't feature are Andrew Munce and Stuart Aikman.

The pair, acting for Inglis and Magic Millions respectively, have a big say on who receives finance (and more importantly who doesn't) to purchase horses through the auctions each year, to the tune of hundreds of millions of dollars.

Keeping on their good side is advisable.

Belmont debut signals bright future for Bustler

WWW.TBWA.NET.AU

Playing God 2yo Bustler has streamed a ray of sunshine on what has been a season of mixed emotions for WA-based Ruby Racing & Breeding.

Bustler made a successful race debut in last Wednesday's TABtouch Plate (1000m) at Belmont for trainer Neville Parnham, who bought the youngster for $130,000 from Ruby's consignment to the 2021 Perth Magic Millions.

Ruby's O'Bree family – Rod & Bridie and their children Jaime & Dan – were excited for more than one reason. Rod kept a share in Bustler and he showed enormous potential for a partnership that includes the Parnhams and Santo Guagliardo.

Bustler (2g Playing God - Cosmah Domination by Oratorio) was one of Ruby's first forays into the perilous world of pinhooking and it worked out extra well, following a $32,500 bid for him as a foal at the 2020 Mungrup Stud Dispersal.

Starting a $3.70 favourite on debut, he landed right behind the leader but was eager to be faster and threw his head about coming to the corner. Comeback jockey Steven Parnham eased him into the clear turning for home and he knuckled down at the business end to hold a half-length margin over Work In Progress (Written Tycoon).

"He's a very nice horse and will have a brief break now for some feature races later this year," Parnham predicted. "Steven has always liked him. He jumped off after a workout one morning and said we've got a pretty good one here."

"I've been keeping a close watch on him. He was a bit coltish and being gelded has been the making of him. He's still got some growing up to do but there's a lot of Playing God in him."

Bustler

Parnham prepared Playing God (Blackfriars) and the Darling View Thoroughbreds' stallion has been flying in the second-half of the season with 2yo winners Bustler, Paddy's Lad, Vampi At Play, Sky Duke, Swear to God and Baby Paris.

They have catapulted Playing God to the top of the WA 2YO premiership with earnings of $679,150 to overhaul season-long leader Demerit ($629,135) within sight of the finishing line. He has been touted the heir-apparent to his own sire as WA's leading stallion but becoming Champion 2yo stallion was never part of the equation. It also indicates the Darling View resident will assemble a strong team for the classics next season.

Ruby Racing & Breeding sold a Playing God - Hazel Hellraiser colt (Lot 142) to Hayden Ballantyne for $130,000 at this year's Perth Magic Millions in February. He helped Ruby finish Top 3 on the vendor average table behind Amelia Park and Willaview Park.

That was an outstanding achievement for just the third O'Bree-family consignment to the Swan Valley, but a month later they were shattered to lose their More Than Ready (USA) broodmare Sambar.

"Sambar was one in a million and we are devastated," Ruby Racing & Breeding announced on March 27. "Our sweet mare has passed away from colic. She was our foundation mare and has left a huge stamp on the breeding industry."

Sambar foaled the winners of six Stakes races topped by Tiger Of Malay (G2 BRC Sires' Produce Stakes), Samizdat (G3 Asian Beau Stakes) and Samovare (G3 Champion Fillies Stakes). Her final foal is a Lonhro filly born last October that's sure to be retained.

The O'Brees kept a share in Tiger Of Malay (Extreme Choice) who will begin stud duties at Newgate Farm this season. Among his maiden mares is NZ-bred Rock My Frock (Rock 'n' Pop) who was purchased by Ruby Racing & Breeding for $70,000 at the Magic Millions National Sale in May.

Rock My Frock is a half-sister to Fabric (G2 SAJC Queen of the South) and Sewreel (LR Taranaki Oaks Prelude). Group 1 Queensland Derby winner Lachlan River also appears one generation further down the page.

Sambar may be gone, however, the O'Bree family won't forget all the opportunities and connections she created when they're cheering home Bustler at the next Ascot summer carnival.

MAGIC MILLIONS

John O'Shea looks to have unearthed a potential spring carnival runner in the shape of Zoukerino (Snitzel) after the two-year-old impressed on his debut at Randwick's Kensington track on Wednesday.

Having indicated his potential in good recent barrier trials, Zoukerino made a most impressive winning debut. Quickly away from his outside barrier (10), he was eased by Brenton Avdulla to settle in fourth place, before improving nicely rounding the home turn. He soon dashed clear to score very easily by three and quarter lengths.

A $500,000 purchase as a yearling, O'Shea was unsure just how the son of Snitzel (Redoute's Choice) would cope with the Heavy 10 conditions, however the testing ground proved no issue as he beat his rivals, led home by One Destiny (Super One), easily.

"I thought he was a Listed, Group 3 horse at worst and I'm always of the belief good horses do good things at their first start, irrespective of the circumstances," O'Shea said. "And I think he's done a good thing there."

Echoing O'Shea's thoughts, Avdulla said Zoukerino gave him the feel of a horse who could progress to bigger races.

"He does give you that feel like he's above average," Avdulla said. "He gave me a lovely ride. I was able to slot in behind James [McDonald on leader Renosu] and he took me where I needed to be. He probably didn't take me far enough to be honest. He hit the front a long way out, but to his credit, he did it very comfortably."

Bred by John Muir's Milburn Creek Stud,

Zoukerino was knocked down to Suman Hedge for a sale-topping $500,000 at the 2021 Magic Millions National Yearling Sale.

A brother to Group 3-placed Spend, Zoukerino is the fourth winner out of the Hussonet (Mr. Prospector) mare Walk With Attitude, herself a winner of the Desirable Stakes (Listed, 1400m).

Hedge and Ciaran Maher Bloodstock went to $800,000 for Walk With Attitude's I Am Invincible (Invincible Spirit) filly at the Gold Coast earlier this year.

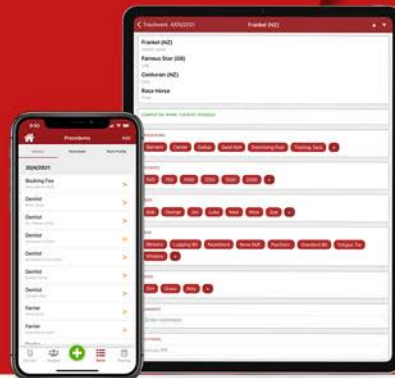

From the family of French Oaks (Gr 1, 2100m) winner Raffha (Kris) and champion sires Invincible Spirit (Green Desert) and Kodiak (Danahill), Walk With Attitude has a weanling colt by The Autumn Sun (Redoute's Choice) and was covered by Zoustar (Northern Meteor) last spring.
