The global search for a stallion possessing the prepotent blood of Japan's late, great super sire Deep Impact (Sunday Silence) by prominent racehorse owners and breeders from the United Arab Emirates will see his Australian dual Group 1-winning son Tosen Stardom reverse shuttle to Ireland in the New Year.

Emiratis Hamad Al Kadfoor, a Dubai-based lawyer and long-time successful owner and breeder, and his racing business partner Ali Farooq have joined forces with Irish studmaster Tom Wallace of Lemongrove Stud to shuttle the Woodside Park Stud stallion for the 2023 northern hemisphere breeding season.

Amelia's Jewel to be aimed at inaugural Quokka

Saturday's Northerly Stakes (Gr 1, 1800m) winner Amelia's Jewel (Siyouni) will remain in Perth next season and will be targeted at the inaugural edition of The Quokka (1200m). Amelia Park Racing announced yesterday that the daughter of Siyouni's (Pivotal) first major event in 2023 will be the $4 million race at Ascot on April 15 before a potential date in the $10 million Golden Eagle (1500m) at Rosehill in Sydney next October. Cont. on page 7 >>

<< Continued from page 1 Farooq, who has a deep connection with the Australian racing and breeding industry via his association with Emirates Park, revealed he had been following the progress of Tosen Stardom for the past three years and began making enquiries about the possibility of shuttling him about six months ago.

“The main reason [we are shuttling him] is because of Deep Impact’s pedigree and Tosen Stardom’s pedigree as well and that we believe he will really suit the European style of racing, probably more so than the Australian style of racing,” Farooq told ANZ Bloodstock News.

“Australia is all about sprints, fast, precocious two-year-olds, that’s what the Australians are looking for, but in Ireland and England it’s more about the middle-distance racing, the Derbies and the Guineas and the King George and all of those races.

“That was the reason we specifically targeted and worked on this horse and to get the deal done and get him to shuttle to [Ireland].”

Farooq’s business partner Kadfoor has raced and bred horses throughout the UAE since the late 1990s and he has experienced success in Dubai with the likes of Dubai Canal (Nayef), Pilgrim’s Treasure (Dubawi), Mazagran (War Front) and the recently purchased Eye On The Prize (Il Campione), a Grade 3 winner from Uruguay who is a leading contender for the UAE 2,000 Guineas (Gr 3, 1600m) at Meydan next year.

Farooq’s father Faisal Farooq was previously a director of Emirates Park and a close confidant of the well-known racing and breeding operation’s owner, His Excellency Nasser Lootah.

Ali also worked at Emirates Park in the Hunter Valley in the early 1990s (and again briefly in 2001-02) and during that extended period he and his father raced horses around the world, including in Australia, Singapore and Malaysia.

Ali Farooq also ran his own sizable stud Emirates Farm in Pakistan from 1994 until 2014 when the political unrest in the country became too much of a burden.

“I actually spent a lot of time in Australia at Emirates Park [in the Hunter Valley],” Farooq said.

“My father was one of the first directors of Emirates Park and he is very good friends with Mr Nasser Lootah, so my first experience with racehorses was at Emirates Park.

“I worked there for a year and a half and I did a course at Scone TAFE, which was back in 1992 or ’93.

“The reason for all of this happening was that I was very familiar with Australian racing and I have a lot of friends in Australia.” Cont. on page 4>>

<< Continued from page 2 Under the Zenith Racing banner, Ali Farooq, 48, also races the Dallas Stewart-trained Grade 2 winner and two-time juvenile Listed-winning entire Long Range Toddy (Take Charge Indy) in the US to complement his horses who are raced in Dubai and Saudi Arabia.

Long Range Toddy is expected to campaign during the Dubai World Cup Carnival in the new year.

Tosen Stardom's first Australian-bred crop are three-year-olds with the Symon Wilde-trained gelding Shuriken his best-performed horse to date, winning the Vobis Gold Stockade (1400m) and finishing an eye-catching fourth in the Sandown Guineas (Gr 2, 1600m) at Caulfield on November 26.

Retired to Woodside Park Stud, when owned by Mark Rowsthorn, Tosen Stardom remained on the Tylden farm's stallion roster when it was purchased by Eddie Hirsch in 2021.

The introduction of the interested party to Woodside Park came via the farm's stallion manager Amir Khan who worked with Ali Farooq at Emirates Park decades earlier.

Woodside Park's Mark Dodemaide believes there to be no downside to shuttling Tosen Stardom to Ireland and is confident that the stallion can sire his share of winners in both hemispheres.

"Eighty per cent of the bookings [in 2022] have come from either people who have one [by Tosen Stardom] and they are very happy with them, so they've bred back to him again," Dodemaide said of the stallion's Australian-bred progeny.

The international breeding partnership intends on sending at least 12 mares to Tosen Stardom in his first northern hemisphere season with Farooq and Kadfoor expected to retain fillies to race while also dreaming of breeding a UAE Derby (Gr 2, 1900m) or UAE Guineas winner by the elite-level scorer.

Lemongrove Stud's Wallace, 48, said Tosen Stardom would suit the European mares on type and pedigree and in floating the stallion with some Irish breeders he'd already had some mares committed to him for next year, prior to being officially launched.

Coolmore's two-time Group 1-winning son of Deep Impact, Saxon Warrior, stands in Ireland at a fee of €35,000.

"At €7,000, he seems very good value compared to Saxon Warrior and then you have Study Of Man by Deep Impact standing in the UK. This fella is rated three pounds superior to Study Of Man and Study Of Man could stand at something like €15,000," said Wallace, who ran the stallion barn at Water Cress Farm in the US when stallions of the calibre of Cigar (Palace Music) were residing at the Kentucky stud. Continued on page 5>>

<< Continued from page 4 “To have a horse rated three pounds better, a dual Group 1 winner, at €7,000 for the Irish, the UK and the European breeders, to me it seems like a no-brainer, particularly when he gets you a good looking horse.

“All of the comments from the people I know in Australia and New Zealand, what they’ve said to me is that they may take a little bit of time but that he’s a really good-looking horse and I think that’s what will be a major attraction to him. He’s a horse who had a very, very good turn of foot.”

Wallace, who also has experience working for Rathbarry Stud, revealed his developing relationship with Farooq and Kadfoor would allow him to expand the services offered by Lemongrove Stud, which is only eight kilometres from Tally-Ho Stud, which stands stallions including Kodiak (Danehill) and Mehmas (Acclamation).

“I worked on stud farms in America and here in Ireland and you always think, eventually, you’d like to stand your own stallions,” he said.

“But it is a big thing to try and do on your own, setting up a stallion farm, because you just don’t know how it is going to go, so it is good to have other people to bounce ideas off.

“I suppose three heads are better than one.”

During a 29-start race career, which started in Japan, Tosen Stardom won seven races, two of them at the highest level, the 2017 Toorak Handicap (Gr 1, 1600m) and MacKinnon Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) when trained by Darren Weir.

Tosen Stardom

WOODSIDE PARK STUD

He was also a dual Grade 3 winner in Japan and also finished runner-up in the 2015 Ranvet Stakes (Gr 1, 2000m) at Rosehill when trained by Yasutoshi Ikee before being sold to a syndicate led by Australian Bloodstock and transferred to Weir in early 2016.

Tosen Stardom is expected to be exported to Ireland on an International Racehorse Transport flight before Christmas.

Valley warm up for Corstens Girl

Malua Racing are confident that Girl (Zoustar) can take the step up to metropolitan level in her stride at Sandown on Saturday following a pleasing gallop at Moonee Valley yesterday. The Leon and Troy Corstens-trained daughter of Zoustar (Northern Meteor) trialled alongside Fast Star (Zoustar), running the final 400 metres in 22.96 seconds, and the last-start Bendigo winner will now take up this weekend's option. "We originally planned to run her last Friday in the 1200 [metre] fillies and mares but she drew off the track that night so we didn't want to risk running her from a wide gate," Malua Racing assistant trainer Dom Sutton said. "We just decided to nominate her around and we did think about going to Hamilton but she's going pretty well, so we're going to have a crack at a Saturday race with her and 1400 [metres] should suit. She's come through that [Bendigo win] well and she's getting better and better.

She's still learning, she's not the finished article but she's definitely a promising filly."

Amelia's Jewel to be aimed at inaugural Quokka

Amelia's Jewel

RACING PHOTOS

Saturday's Northerly Stakes (Gr 1, 1800m) winner Amelia's Jewel (Siyouni) will remain in Perth next season and will be targeted at the inaugural edition of The Quokka (1200m). Amelia Park Racing announced yesterday that the daughter of Siyouni's (Pivotal) first major event in 2023 will be the $4 million race at Ascot on April 15 before a potential date in the $10 million Golden Eagle (1500m) at Rosehill in Sydney next October. "After much consideration our team along with Simon Miller Racing would like to advise that Amelia's Jewel will be having a good spell with her aim being the new slot race The Quokka followed by a trip to Sydney for the Golden Eagle," Amelia Park Racing tweeted.

Australian autumn on the agenda for Aegon

Saturday's Captain Cook Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m) runner-up Aegon (Sacred Falls) will now head for a break with trainer Andrew Forsman eyeing up some of Australia's feature races with the five-year-old. The son of Sacred Falls (O'Reilly) went down by half-a-length behind Prise De Fer (Savabeel), only being overhauled in the closing stages under Michael Dee. "The race unfolded as we feared it might, unfortunately, with Prise De Fer getting on his back and having the last shot at him," Forsman said. "I thought he was brave. I feel like he didn't quicken as good as he could have on a better track, but that's a pretty minor excuse I would have thought. When Prise De Fer came to him he dug in and he did try hard, but he ran into a better one on the day. We had a good look at him this morning and he was bouncing, so he's really come through the race well, but he's gone to the paddock today. Even though he's been lightly raced this prep he's been up a while now, so we needed to give him a break at some point and he'll go out for a few weeks now. I think he's up to weight-for-age either here or in Australia. He's got a couple of options in Melbourne that we'll probably work towards in February." Aegon's next race is most likely to be the CF Orr Stakes (Gr 1, 1400m) at Caulfield on February 11.

No obvious target for Lucky

Having disappointed on his first crack at Group 1 company when finishing down the field in the Moir Stakes (Gr 1, 1000m) on September 23, Will Clarken is not getting ahead of himself with Extremely Lucky (Extreme Choice) as the four-year-old gelding prepares to make his return in the new year. The son of Extreme Choice (Not A Single Doubt) won the Lightning Stakes (Listed, 1050m) at Morphettville in July and also placed in the Carlyon Stakes (Listed, 1100m) at Moonee Valley before last-time-out's disappointment. "We had a huge amount of hype on the horse last prep and he only let us down once I guess," Clarken told Racing.com. "The form out of that race at The Valley when Bella Nipotina beat him is obviously good - two Group 1 winners ended up coming out of the race. He actually came back yesterday [Sunday], he's put on a lot of weight. There is no goal for him this preparation, he'll just be kicking off in Adelaide in a normal race or kick off in Melbourne on a Saturday and we'll see where he lies. He's still eight to ten weeks away from racing. He struck those two strange Valley tracks in a row, I just want to get his confidence back up and we'll guide him through a preparation."

Patience the order for Bieg

In-form trainer Chris Bieg will take the patient approach with his two-year-old filly Dubenko (Russian Revolution) and has admitted she will likely skip the Magic Millions series on the Gold Coast. The daughter of Russian Revolution (Snitzel) will instead go for a spell after finishing third in the Magic Millions Ballarat 2YO Classic (1000m). "She's very good, she's gone straight to the paddock, I'll probably go down and see her and make a decision next week on what we're going to do with her," Bieg told Racing.com. "My gut feeling is we should hold her back and worry about Melbourne, the Magic Millions race series is just so good now, that's not the only race she could get to, there are many races in years to come for her. Whether or not we bring her back in to push on or give her a little bit longer and head towards the Blue Diamond Preludes [I haven't decided]. We'll give her a crack at the Blue Diamond lead-in races, there's also Magic Millions races in Adelaide for her."

Trial winner for Aylmerton

Todman Stakes (Gr 2, 1200m) winner Aylmerton (Siyouni) sired a trial winner at Warwick Farm yesterday when his son Besson ran out an easy winner of a 740-metre heat. Ridden by Tyler Schiller, Besson clocked 44.73s on the synthetic track as he came home two and three-quarter lengths in front of Impending (Lonhro) colt Bo Katan. Bred and raced by Woodpark Stud, Besson is closely related to the Group 2 winner Happy Galaxy (Nadeem), with his third dam the Group 1 scorer Porto Roca (Barath ea).

Flemington ready for summer meets

Racing will return to Flemington for the first time since the 2022 Melbourne Cup Carnival with tickets for five summer race days going on sale at 3pm today. The action begins with VRC Christmas Race Day on December 17, with the $1 million Summer Sprint Series beginning with the running of the Kensington Stakes (Listed, 1000m). Racegoers can also celebrate the start of 2023 with the traditional New Year's Day Race Day on January 1, a program featuring nine races including the Bagot Handicap (Listed, 2800m) for stayers and Chester Manifold Stakes (Listed, 1400m). The summer action continues on January 14 with the VRC Summer Fun Race Day which will be headlined by the Standish Handicap (Gr 3, 1200m) for sprinters. The time-honoured feature offers a ballot exemption into the Newmarket Handicap (Gr 1, 1200m) on March 11.

Williams closes Macedon Lodge facility

Seven-time Melbourne Cup (Gr 1, 3200m) winner Lloyd Williams will have several horses prepared by Tulloch Lodge and Lindsay Park after announcing he has closed his Macedon Lodge facility. Most notably, Gai Waterhouse and Adrian Bott will take over the training of 2020 Epsom Derby (Gr 1, 1m 4f) winner Serpentine (Galileo) and younger brother King of the Castle (Galileo), the pair settling into their new surroundings at Randwick.

Childs moves to Perth seeking opportunities

Apprentice Tayla Childs will link up with Perth-based trainer Luke Fernie in order to gain better opportunities outside of her current base in Victoria. Childs, daughter of champion jockey Greg and sister of Group 1-winning rider, Jordan, has ridden 33 winners since she began her apprenticeship in 2019 and was encouraged to make the move by her father. "It's so tough in Victoria with the lack of opportunities," Childs told The Races WA. "It's always something I have wanted to do and it was a matter of the right time to have a go in Perth. Going to Perth I hope I can get more rides and more opportunities. In Victoria I could be going on four-hour car trips for maybe one or two rides. Rides are not as consistent as over there. I just want to ride more in Perth and that's the goal. I can't wait to get over there."

Lloyd to have surgery on collarbone

Zoe Lloyd is hoping she can undergo surgery tomorrow on the fractured collarbone she sustained in a fall at Stawell on Saturday. The 24-year-old was dislodged from Fortunate Fred (Redente) at the 300-metre mark and spent the night in hospital but has since returned home. "I actually thought I was ok and got out of this ok, but I think the doctors expected it to be fractured there and then," Lloyd told Racing.com. "I spent Saturday night in hospital but they were more worried about my head because I have a few bruises. I am not sure if the horse clipped heels or fell in a hole or what, but I do know it got tight for space and was tiring pretty quickly ... it all happened so quickly. When I did my other collarbone it was about four weeks but this one is a different break. This one is two fractures but last time I snapped it completely in half, so I am not sure if it is going to be more difficult or not."

Queensland trio face jigger charges

The Queensland Racing Integrity Commission have charged both trainer Todd Austin and jockey Ric McMahon with the possession of a 'jigger' and for providing false and/or misleading evidence. The QRIC released details of the charges yesterday following a picture that arose from trackwork prior to the Birdsville Cup meeting in August, evidence that allegedly shows the jockey holding the illegal electrical device. Along with the 'jigger' charge, Austin was charged with allowing an act of cruelty to Hemmerle (Lucas Cranach) by allowing McMahon to ride the horse at Birdsville on August 30 this year, as well as charging the trainer and his wife with providing false and misleading information to the QRIC stewards in relation to the incident. McMahon, Austin and his wife have until next Monday to submit pleas to the charges and provide further submissions.

Quirindi transferred to Tamworth

The Quirindi race meeting scheduled for next Tuesday has been transferred to Tamworth. Any race distance amendments can be found here.

Rail movement for Saturday's Toowoomba meeting

Racing Queensland yesterday announced that due to an unplanned rail movement at Toowoomba Turf Club, a change has been made to the distance of one race at the club's meeting on Saturday. That change can be found here.

NEW ZEALAND

Princess set for back-up in Miss Eulogy

Last-start Trentham winner Tivaci Princess (Tivaci) is set to make a quick back-up in this weekend's Eulogy Stakes (Gr 3, 1600m) at Awapuni. The Roydon Bergerson-trained daughter of Tivaci (High Chaparral) scored an impressive length and three-quarters success on Saturday, at just her sixth appearance, and has proved her well-being following that performance. "She's a tidy horse and it was a good strong win and she has always shown a lot, but hasn't had the rub of the green to be fair," Bergerson said. "She ate up well when we got her home and she was pretty fresh this morning. She's as good as gold and we'll nominate her and see what the rest of the week brings. It will be good to get some black type for Waikato Stud. When they get that brand on their shoulder they are bred to run in good races." Bergerson has high aspirations of the three-year-old, with the New Zealand Oaks (Gr.1, 2400m) high on the agenda. "She's quite a relaxed filly and doesn't get up and travel. She's got a good brain and that's the main thing so the plan is to look toward the New Zealand Oaks, we might as well aim high," he said.

Moroney excited with New Zealand crop

Mike Moroney will head back home to New Zealand in the coming weeks and has admitted he is looking forward to his crop across the Tasman. "It'll be interesting to see the horses, my family's back there as well, so [I'll] spend Christmas with them, it's the first time Dad won't be there, so it'll be nice to spend some time with Mum," Moroney told Racing.com. "We start our carnival there, there's a nice Christmas Carnival on and I get time to have a look at all of the horses there and probably pick a few to come back here. I always say it's getting out of bed at the same time but just a different background, Kaimai Ranges in New Zealand and the city here. We've got some three-year-olds there and a couple of mares there that are probably going to be good enough to join in at some stage. Like we did with Roch 'N' Horse, we've got a mare called Dragon Queen who's been a Group 2 winner over there and she'll probably end up in Australia at some stage, maybe the autumn or the winter. Another mare called Sassy Merlot, who looks a really nice sprinting mare [and] another mare called Tevere, they're all nice mares. There are a couple of three-year-olds who haven't raced yet who we think might be Derby horses, so we'll see how we go."

HK: Sight bidding for Hong Kong Sprint Success

John Size

HKJC

John Size is hopeful that Sight Success (Magnus) could emerge as the surprise packet in the Hong Kong Sprint (Gr 1, 1200m) at Sha Tin on Sunday after justifying his claims in key preliminary races through this season and last. Having finished runner-up in last term's Sprint Cup (Gr 2, 1200m) and Bauhinia Sprint Trophy Handicap (Gr 3, 1000m), Sight Success laid down markers to suggest he was capable of capturing a big scalp, especially after being sent around as second favourite following these efforts to win the 2022 Chairman's Sprint Prize (Gr 1, 1200m), a race in which he finished second behind Wellington (All Too Hard). Sight Success, a seven-time winner from 21 starts in Hong Kong, finished 12th first-up this term before grabbing fourth at odds of 80-1 in last month's Jockey Club Sprint (Gr 2, 1200m), nearly two lengths away from the winning Lucky Sweynesse (Sweynesse). "He's run good races like that before [last start]. He raced well last season like that and it's good that he's come back to that form and based on how he's done since that race, I am hopeful that he can hold it," Size said. "He seems ok, he seems happy to trial, he showed good speed and he looked like he wanted to be there, so I think he's pretty happy with himself." Mickael Barzalona will take the mount on Sight Success after the six-year-old crossed the line second in a barrier trial on the dirt over 1200 metres at Sha Tin last Friday.

HK: Size to also run Courier Wonder

Courier Wonder (Sacred Falls), who is first reserve to join the Hong Kong Sprint field this Sunday, will also be saddled up by John Size, should he gain a place in the final field. A five-time winner from 11 starts, Courier Wonder has had two runs this season after he was found with substantial blood in his trachea last January. Courier Wonder's two runs back this term have both proven inconclusive with the gelding finding trouble in each outing at crucial stages of the race. "He got a little bit of interference, last start even, and even though he was back in the field, we probably didn't get a good look at him. He's had excuses a couple of times and I'm hopeful that he might do his best across the next couple of runs," Size said. Size will point the five-year-old towards races such as the Centenary Sprint Cup (Gr 1, 1200m) on February 5 should he not make this weekend's field. "He's on standby for this, he still might get in, there's a few visitors in the race and something might happen - we'll wait. If not, there wouldn't be a race for him until January - there's a race every month for them after that," he said.

HK: Purton expecting competitive IJC challenge

Zac Purton is anticipating a tough challenge in his bid for a fourth International Jockeys' Championship at Happy Valley tomorrow. The five-time Hong Kong Champion Jockey won the championship in 2017 as well as the last two years but thinks this year's edition has a fierce look to it. "It's always the unknown," he said. "I've just picked up my rides and I haven't had a chance to digest their chances and the opposition yet, but one thing I have noticed this year is there is quite a lot of depth to the races. It creates an exciting contest and I'm looking forward to it again. These are the best jockeys from around the world and they've had the most success in recent times as well. They're all in good form and it creates an element of interest for everyone. These are the biggest stars in our sport so to be able to compete with them on a night like this is an opportunity I appreciate. I enjoy having them in town and catching up with them as friends too, so it's good to see some familiar faces. I think the races are going to be competitive and hopefully I can fly the flag for Hong Kong again."

MYS: Teller captures Malaysia's biggest prize

The Lim Shung You-trained Teller (Heliostatic) captured Malaysian racing's biggest prize in the calendar year when he won the Piala Emas Sultan Selangor (Listed, 2000m) at Sungei Besi on Sunday. The 2000-metre race returned this season after being called off in the last two years due to the Covid 19 pandemic. A dual Listed winner in Singapore, the son of Heliostatic (Galileo) was ridden by apprentice Nuqman Faris Rozi and snatched victory in the final strides, beating Golden King (King's Theatre) by a half-length with a further length and a half back to Skydance Eclipse (Foxwedge) in third.

MYS: Violet raises his game for cup win

Having been struggling to rediscover his form all season, Violet (Mint Lane) raised his game to run out an upset winner of the Betmakers Cup (1250m) at Sungei Besi on Sunday. The Australian-bred gelding's previous success came on the corresponding weekend last year when he registered his 12th career win. With in-form rider Nuqman Faris Rozi in the saddle, Violet managed to run down the front-running Awesomestorm (Phenomenons) in the shadow of the winning post to win by a neck with Gingerella (Gingerbread Man) a further length behind in third.

SGP: Tropez to be aimed at Derby

Shane Baertschiger will aim new acquisition Saint Tropez (Not A Single Doubt) at next year's Singapore Derby (Listed, 1800m). The Singapore-based trainer paid AU$200,000 for the son of Not A Single Doubt (Redoute's Choice), placed in the Chairman's Stakes (Gr 3, 2000m), in May via an Inglis Digital sale. Baertschiger then moved Saint Tropez to friends Trent Busuttin and Natalie Young for two starts before the four-year-old arrived in Singapore in September. "He is galloping and will trial in the last week of December and be looking to race mid-late January," Baertschiger told Racing.com. "He has acclimatised well, he is thriving and eating his head off and working well. Some struggle to be stabled for so long, in the morning they are out for about an hour and maybe 20 minutes in the afternoon and some just don't handle it, but he's been great."

INTERNATIONAL

FR: Mee goes large at Arqana sale

Dave Mee PINHOOK BLOODSTOCK

Dave Mee's Pinhook Bloodstock International went to €140,000 (approx. AU$218,140) to secure Girl With Balloon (Frankel) from Ecurie des Monceaux at Sunday's second session of the 2022 Arqana Breeding Stock Sale. The winning daughter of Frankel (Galileo) boasts a big pedigree as she is out of a winning sister to Zoffany (Dansili), meaning Futurity Stakes (Gr 2, 7f) scorer Rostropovich (Frankel) and the Anglesey Stakes (Gr 3, 6.5f) victor Wilshire Boulevard (Holy Roman Emperor) also appear beneath the filly's second dam. "We were really looking for a filly by Frankel as these types are hard to find in Australia," Mee said. "She's a winner and the page is improving all the time so we're delighted to get her." Also heading to Australia is the two-time winner Healing Oasis (Oasis Dream), who gained some valuable black type when third in the Prix de Saint-Cyr (Listed, 1400m) on her penultimate outing. The three-year-old was offered by her trainer Fabrice Chappet and sold to Damon Gabbedy of Belmont Bloodstock and Tim Wilson for €135,000 (approx. AU$210,350). "We think there's a great opportunity to buy some three-year-old fillies who will be well suited by a mile out in Australia. She ticks that box," Wilson said. Further Australian purchases on the day included three-time placed filly Agrigan (Siyouni) for €90,000 (approx. AU$140,230) by Jo and Brendan Lindsay's Cambridge Bloodstock in conjunction with John Foote, while the latter also added unraced three-year-old Aga Khan filly Dariwa (Iffraaj) to his books for €12,000 (approx. AU$18,700). The second day saw 262 mares, fillies and foals go under the hammer with 80 per cent were sold for an average of €36,654 (approx. AU$57,110), up 12 per cent from 2021. Turnover hit €7,734,000 (approx. AU$12.05 million), up 15 per cent from last year.

Five for Tourist

Wentru (4 c ex Wicked Temper by Tapit) provided Tourist (Tiznow) with a fifth individual stakes winner when dead-heating for first place in Sunday's Valedictory Stakes (Gr 3, 12f) at Woodbine. Trained by Martin Drexler, the four-year-old colt could not be separated from the Mark Casse-trained Grade 2 winner Who's The Star (Tonalist), with the pair just a neck clear of the third-placed English Conqueror (English Channel). Out of the winning Tapit (Pulpit) mare Wicked Temper, Wentru is a half-brother to three winners, Mozu Eroico (Declaration Of War), Wicked Sensation (Drosselmeyer) and Burning Desire (Empire Maker). Tourist, who stood the 2022 northern hemisphere breeding season at WinStar Farm, will relocate to Rockridge Stud for the upcoming season. He will stand for US$3,500 (approx. AU$5,140).

US: Regal Glory wins fourth Grade 1

The Chad Brown-trained Regal Glory (6 m Animal Kingdom - Mary's Follies by More Than Ready) added a fourth elite-level success to her glittering CV when coming home a comfortable winner of the Matriarch Stakes (Gr 1, 1m) at Del Mar on Sunday. Sent off as the odds-on favourite under Flavien Prat, the six-year-old mare was always prominent and produced a strong run inside the final furlong to win going away at the line, beating England's Rose (English Channel) by five and a quarter lengths with a further neck back to Pizza Bianca (Fastnet Rock) in third.

US: Epicenter to stand at Ashford Stud

Six-time winner Epicenter (Not This Time) will stand at Coolmore's Ashford Stud for the upcoming northern hemisphere breeding season at a fee of US$45,000 (approx. AU$66,350). The son of Not This Time (Giant's Causeway) won the Travers Stakes (Gr 1, 12f) in August when trained by Steve Asmussen for owners Winchell Thoroughbreds, beating fellow Grade 1 scorers Cyberknife (Gun Runner) and Zandon (Upstart) by five and a quarter lengths. He was subsequently retired from racing after suffering an injury in the Breeders' Cup Classic (Gr 1, 12f). "Epicenter is the best son of Giant's Causeway's best sire son Not This Time and is out of a stakes winner by the sire of Gun Runner," said Coolmore's Dermot Ryan. "His combination of speed and stamina made him a potent force and he's a very good-looking horse to boot. Breeders are going to love him."

KIWI CHRONICLES

Saturday's Captain Cook Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m) winner's prize of $172,250 saw Savabeel (Zabeel) surge from fifth to second on this season's premiership but the leader, Proisir (Choisir), who enjoyed an outstanding spring, has a $630,000 margin as the summer part of the season heats up.

The riches of the Auckland, Wellington and Waikato carnivals lie ahead. The Karaka Million races, New Zealand Derby (Gr 1, 2400m) and feature weight-for-age Group 1s can impact the money list quite rapidly, as Saturday's Group 1 just proved. Look for the gap to narrow over the coming months.

It would be fitting for Savabeel to notch a ninth consecutive New Zealand Sire Premiership. On the all-time list of New Zealand sires of individual stakes winners, Savabeel's 127 is just three shy of his grandsire Sir Tristram's 130 (yet some distance from his sire's total of 166). He is also three premierships shy of Foxbridge (Foxlaw), whose eleven consecutive titles between 1941 and 1951 set the standard, maybe an unreachable standard.

In the meantime, Savabeel's Prize De Fer was finally rewarded with his maiden Group 1 and Savabeel's 28th. The seven-year-old is not shy. He arrived at Trentham with five Group 1 placings and, proving his soundness, backed up seven days after a last-to-first Eagle Technology Stakes (Gr 3, 1600m) win at Te Rapa. At start 39, Prize De Fer had 13 previous Group 1 attempts recording three seconds, two thirds and was fifth three times, so he was due.

Michael McNab dropped him back soon after the start and was a length last from the 1400 metres to the 800 metres. From the 600 metres he improved wide to be midfield but was widest starting the run home. He took some time to wind up, accelerated at the 200 metres, levelled up inside the 100 metres and grabbed the lead at the 50 metres to score by a half length, his career eleventh victory to add to a Group 2 and three Group 3s, banking $823,600.

Prise De Fer

RACE IMAGES

Purchased out of the Trelawney Stud draft at the 2017 NZB Karaka Premier Yearling Sale, Prize De Fer is proving to be a sound investment by Te Akau Racing's David Ellis for $100,000. Good luck repeating that feat. The Savabeels will again be all the rage next month and $100,000 will only be sufficient to open the bidding.

At the time of his purchase, his half-sister, Group 2 and three-times Listed winner Belong To Many (Belong To Me) had yet to produce Native Soldier (Sepoy), a subsequent dual Group 3 and Listed winner. His dam, Foiled (Snippets), ranks as a half-sister to the out-and-out-sprinter Sword (Switch In Time), the winner of 12 races including the Goodwood Handicap (Gr 1, 1200m).

Prise De Fer descends directly from the Caulfield Debutante Stakes (Gr 3, 5f) winner Domremon (Star Kingdom), his fifth dam, herself a daughter of the imported Morin (Vilmorin), an Epsom winner who placed second in the Epsom Acorn Stakes (Listed, 5f) at two.

In Australia, Morin foaled three stakes winners but in the ensuing years has been responsible for 27 stakes winners and 22 black-type placed performers. Prise De Fer is one of four elite winners that trace to Morin, the best being Sea Siren (Fastnet Rock), a triple Group 1 winner. Recent New Zealand-bred Group 3 stakes winners from this family are two by Tavistock (Montjeu), namely Gunstock and Ruthless Dame.

Rack up 40

In a perfect segway, Tavistock racked up stakes winner number 40 when Kissinger ran clear to claim the Pakenham Cup (Listed, 2500m). Under Damien Oliver, the seven-year-old cruised up to challenge soon after straightening and stayed on best, increasing his lead over the final 100 metres for his maiden stakes win.

Kissinger was sourced from the same NZB Karaka Premier Yearling Sale as Prise De Fer, purchased by trainer Nigel Tiley for $52,500 from the Millfield Stud draft.

He was very patiently handled by Tiley and although trialled at three did not see raceday until four, winning on debut. At his third and last start in New Zealand he bolted away by more than three lengths at Te Aroha over 2200 metres before transferring to the stable of Lindsey Smith at Warrnambool where he won twice as a five-year-old.

At six he was not himself but has found a new lease of life as the Pakenham Cup is his third win this season. Due to a late start, Kissinger has raced just 25 times for seven wins and seven placings and clearly appreciates the longer distance races having scored three times at 2400 metres or beyond, his last three wins.

"Sometimes you just really click with horses," said Oliver, "and we have. He's a lovely stayer, got a beautiful attitude and he certainly makes your job a bit easier".

Kissinger's win made it three successive weeks of stakes winners from the "Belle" family. Two weeks back, Darci La Bella (Darci Brahma) landed the Auckland Thoroughbred Breeders' Stakes (Gr 2, 1400m) at Pukekohe. A week ago, La Flora Belle (Iffraaj) secured the Listed Wanganui Cup (2040m).

Kissinger's dam, Berlin Belle (Black Minnaloushe), is a winning half-sister to Gold Trail Stakes (Gr 3, 1200m) winner Zino Belle (Success Express), herself the dam of sharp sprinter Silver Eclipse (Darci Brahma).

Kissinger's grandam, Christiana Belle (Sackford) claimed the Dulcie Stakes (Gr 2, 1600m) and his third dam, Finezza Belle (Sir Tristram), scored five times (three stakes), campaigning successfully in Brisbane where she took out the Grand Prix Stakes (Gr 2, 2200m). Sadly, Finezza Belle died after producing Christiana Belle.

Kissinger's fifth dam and Darci La Bella's fourth dam are half-sisters, as is Honey Belle (Better Honey), the fourth dam of La Flora Belle. This family is unstoppable.

It's infectious

Last week's edition detailed the enviable run of success by Rich Hill stallions Proisir, Shocking (Street Cry) and Vadamos (Monsun). An honourable mention was given to their Satono Aladdin (Deep Impact) and, one week on, Satono Aladdin delivered his second stakes winner but first in New Zealand, Sacred Satono.

The three-year-old signalled his win in Saturday's Boncrusher Stakes (Gr 3, 1400m) with a very good third against the older sprinters, two weeks prior, in the Counties Bowl (Gr 3, 1100m).

Saturday's effort was notable in that after taking the lead at the 300 metres he was headed yet came back the way good horses do, bagging win three at start nine. He was one of the first into stride then eased to be fifth at the end of the back straight. Still fifth but saving ground from the 600 metres, there was plenty of room to run through when the leaders fanned at the top of the straight. He ran up to challenge inside the 300 metres, led for a stride, was headed by The Intimidator (Toronado) but came back strongly. To the line he held on well by a neck.

Co-trainer Grant Cooksley was impressed. "He won it nicely as he fought back well when the two of them came together. I don't think he actually saw the other horse initially but when he did, he pulled out the extra effort and won quite easily," he said.

Bred by Archer Investments and sold via Rich Hill Stud at the 2021 NZB Karaka Yearling Sales (Book 2), he was knocked down for $34,000.

He is the fourth winner from Belle Joie (Mellifont), a six-time winner and half-sister to Hall of Fame sprinter-miler (King) Mufhasa (Pentire), the ten-time Group 1 winner of 20 races. Her half-sister is Keepa Cheval (Keeper), the dam of another high class sprinter, (The) Bostonian (Jimmy Choux), himself a three-time Group 1 winner in Sydney and Brisbane. Sacred Satono has something to live up to.

Early Aussie speed

This season, three stakes races for two-year-olds have been run, and won, by Australian breds. That should not be surprising. The early maturing two-year-old from Australia is what we have come to expect.

First was the November 9 Welcome Stakes (Listed, 1000m) at Riccarton, won by Sky On Fire (Exceed And Excel). Ten days later, Ethereal Star (Snitzel) impressively won the Counties Challenge Stakes (Listed, 1100m).

The Wakefield Challenge Stakes (Gr 2, 1100m) at Trentham last Saturday fell to Impendabelle (Impending) and she, too, was impressive, especially having to be extricated from an awkward spot soon after the eight-runner field started the run home.

The filly showed real determination in a decisive win and remains unbeaten in two starts. She began well but was shuffled back to share last leaving the chute and on to the crossing. Starting the run home she was awkwardly placed, moved out inside the 400 metres but the available gap narrowed. She made heavy contact, was unbalanced for a stride, but kept driving to share the lead at the 200 metres. To the post she showed her class and won convincingly.

This filly's determination is eerily similar to that displayed by (She's) Licketysplit (Turn Me Loose), a will to win that cannot be denied. Impendabelle is also the first stakes winner by Impending (Lonhro), the 2017 Stradbroke Handicap (Gr 1, 1400m) winner whose oldest are now three-year-olds.

Impending won the Stradbroke as a three-year-old and returned to that scene at four to land the Kingsford-Smith Cup (Gr 1, 1350m) before retiring with five wins and eight placings (three at Group 1 level) and a bank of $2.4 million.

Impendabelle's early maturity may well be due to her dam, Applegate (Exceed And Excel), also a stakes winner at two of the Ottawa Stakes (Listed, 1000m). Two years prior to Impendabelle, Applegate foaled Cloudy (Frosted), a Group 3 and Listed two-year-old winner in Adelaide. Early maturity is apparent in the immediate family.

For Impending, however, there is reason to think that his stock will go on, as he did at four. His dam is the classy Mnemosyne (Encosta De Lago), winner of The Thousand Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m). Her six winners include three stakes scorers, Impending's sister, the Listed winner Epidemic plus his half-brother, Forget (Exceed And Excel), a Group 3 winner. Blue Diamond Stakes (Gr 1, 1200m) winner, Lyre (Lonhro), ranks as a three-quarter sister to Impending.

Zabeel via Lonhro

No one could forget Lonhro (Octagonal), the racehorse. Twenty-six wins including 11 Group 1s will do that. He was a racing icon, the standout by his sire Octagonal (Zabeel), the latter, on reflection, not quite living up to his sire expectations, with just 25 stakes winners.

Lonhro, on the other hand, has rectified that disappointment as sire of 94 stakes winners and is proving to be an interesting customer as his sons are attempting to solidify the Zabeel (Sir Tristram) line in Australia.

Lonhro's lone Australian Sire Premiership in 2011 halted a Northern Dancer (Nearctic) sequence of 11 Australian Sire Premierships. Prior to that, Zabeel achieved back-to-back titles in '98 and '99. Since 2012, the Danehill (Danzig) line has largely continued to dominate, helped by Snitzel (Redoute's Choice, by Danehill) with four successive titles from 2017 to 2020.

Pierro stands at the head of Lonhro's list with 32 stakes winners. The quality of mares that Pierro has attracted would have provided the best opportunity for the Lonhro line to continue. That has been made more difficult due to many of his top-liners being gelded which has resulted in just two Pierro representatives to do the heavy lifting.

Satono Aladdin

Pierata will be given the best opportunity. The Queensland-based Group 1, $5.8 million earner's oldest are yearlings and more than 60 are due to be offered at Magic Millions, Karaka and Sydney. Levendi, the Australian Derby (Gr 1, 2400m) winner, whose oldest are foals, is based in Tasmania.

Lonhro's Denman has sired 18 stakes winners, Sweynesse has five and Exosphere four. Impending will likely add to his first in fairly short order.

If Lonhro's line is to survive it will likely be due to a son or grandson of Pierro who is only 13. Buyers have figured out that he is not a sire of two-year-olds despite his own fabulous record at two. His mare numbers got a boost after the wait and see effect and there is every reason to believe that there will be more classy colts in the future. The line is not as healthy as it might be but there is hope.

He's back

One of the more exciting three-year-olds from last season, Shamus (Shamexpress) returned in great style in the open sprint at Trentham on Saturday. Apart from himself, the race included two Listed winners, twice Group 1 placed Springtide (Darci Brahma) and two further stakes-placed performers. In other words, a proper field of runners.

He was far too good over the 1200 metres and broke 1:10 on the Soft 6 track, the last 600 metres in 33.01, to take his record to five wins in seven starts.

At three, Shamus completed an initial streak of four wins in his first four starts with victory in the Wellington Guineas (Gr 2, 1400m) before running third in the Waikato Guineas (Gr 2, 2000m). A tired run in the Levin Classic (Gr 1, 1600m) resulted in a good spell.

Judging from Saturday's effort, he could be on the verge of a special season, providing his sire, Shamexpress (O'Reilly) with a boost.

Standing alongside Turn Me Loose (Iffraaj) and Vanbrugh (Encosta De Lago) at Windsor Park Stud, his barnmates have stolen the current breeding season headlines.

His winners/runners ratio is a very healthy 57 per cent (100 winners from 174 starters) and Shamus is one of eight stakes winners, the best (so far) being dual Group 1 winner Coventina Bay.

And, talking of barnmates, Rageese (Street Cry) is showing promise. After a very quiet start, he now has 11 winners including two in Australia last weekend. The law of averages suggests that somewhere, some time, one of his stock will break through.

Harry Angel - Darley's Harry Angel (Dark Angel) sired his 26th individual winner when Flying Spirit (2 c ex Olinda by Nayef) kept on well to take out a nursery over seven furlongs at Lingfield. Trained by Heather Main, the colt justified his place at the head of the market as he beat Crocodile Roll (Lethal Force) by a length and a quarter. Betterment (Bobby's Kitten) was a neck further behind in third. Flying Spirit is the sixth foal out of Olinda (Nayef) who herself is a granddaughter of French 1,000 Guineas (Gr 1, 1600m) winner Always Loyal (Zilzal). Harry Angel will stand the 2023 northern hemisphere breeding season at Dalham Hall Stud for a fee of £10,000 (approx. AU$17,845) and stood the southern hemisphere breeding season for a fee of $16,500 (inc GST) at Kelvinside Stud in New South Wales. He has now had 60 starters.

Justify - US Triple Crown winner Justify (Scat Daddy) sired his 26th individual winner when his daughter Secretive (2 f ex Media Mischief by Into Mischief) made a successful debut in a contest for unraced fillies over 1500 metres at Deauville. running on well to land the Hollywood Derby (Gr 1, 9f) on the Del Mar turf. The Graham Motion-trained colt was winning for the fourth time in 13 starts as he beat Spycatcher (Noble Mission) by three-quarters of a length. Favourite Wit (Practical Joker) was another nose away in third. Belmont Derby (Gr 1, 10f) winner Mr Speaker, who has had 252 starters, will stand the 2023 northern hemisphere breeding season at Forks of the Paluxy for a fee of US$5,000 (approx. AU$7,355).

Savabeel - Prise De Fer (7 g ex Foiled by Snippets) became the 28th individual elite-level winner for Savabeel (Zabeel) when taking out the Captain Cook Stakes (Gr 1, 1600m) at Trentham. A last start winner of the Eagle Technology Stakes (Gr 3, 1600m) at Pukekohe, the Mark Walker-trained gelding edged the odds-on favourite Aegon (Sacred Falls) to score by half a length. Chase (Zed) was the same margin away in third. Raced by the Te Akau En Garde Syndicate, Prise De Fer was purchased as a yearling for $100,000 out of the Trelawney Stud Karaka 2017 draft, where he was offered on behalf of breeders Raffles Dancers (NZ) Pty Ltd. The half-brother to Australian Group 2 winner Belong To Many (Belong To Me), Prise De Fer has now won 11 of his 39 starts and earnings in excess of $823,000. Indy) struck in the Demoiselle Stakes (Gr 2, 9f) at Aqueduct to move the tally on to 92. Trained by Todd Pletcher, the red-hot favourite made it two wins in as many starts as she beat Affirmative Lady (Arrogate) by a neck. The winner's stablemate Gambling Girl (Dialed In) was another three-quarters of a length away in third. Julia Shining is out of the Grade 1-winning A.P. Indy (Seattle Slew) mare Dreaming Of Julia making her a full-sister to multiple Grade 1 winner Malathaat. She also has a yearling Medaglia D'Oro (El Prado) filly and a 2022 Curlin filly. Galileo Gold - The Wizard Of Eye (3 c ex Prom Dress by Mount Nelson) made all the running in first time cheekpieces to take out the Hyde Stakes (Listed, 1m) at Kempton and in the process became the sixth individual stakes winner for Galileo Gold (Paco Boy). Trained by Stan Moore, the highly tried colt was winning for the second time in 14 starts as he beat Tinker Toy (War Front) by three and a half lengths. Favourite Cash (Shamardal) was a neck further away in third on what was his first start since narrowly going down to subsequent Irish Derby (Gr 1, 1m 4f) winner Westover at Sandown in April. The Wizard Of Eye is the fourth foal out of Prom Dress (Mount Nelson) making him a half-brother to a winner in Italy. Galileo Gold, who has 119 starters, will stand the 2023 northern hemisphere breeding season at Haras De Bouquetot for a fee of €7,000 (approx. AU$10,780).

Good Magic - Dubyuhnell (2 c ex Wild Gams by Forest Wildcat) became the sixth individual stakes winner for Good Magic (Curlin) when coming out on top in a battle for the Remsen Stakes (Gr 2, 9f) at Aqueduct. The Danny Gargan-trained juvenile got the better of Arctic Arrogance (Frosted) in a prolonged duel before going on to score by half a length. The front two pulled well clear of the remainder, with favourite Tuskegee Airmen (Street Sense) finishing another eleven and a quarter lengths away in third. Now the winner of two of his three starts, Dubyuhnell is out of the multiple graded stakes-winning sprinter Wild Gams (Forest Wildcat). He is her third stakes winner from nine foals. All nine of the dam's foals have raced, and eight are winners. Dubyuhnell was a $400,000 purchase by Oracle Bloodstock, as agent, from Eaton Sales' consignment to the 2021 Keeneland September Yearling Sale. Good Magic, who has had 61 starters, will stand the 2023 northern hemisphere breeding season at Hill 'n' Dale Farms for a fee of US$50,000 (approx. AU$73,575).

Impending - Impendabelle (2 f ex Applegate by Exceed And Excel) remained unbeaten with a dogged performance to win the Wakefield Challenge Stakes (Gr 2, 1100m) at Trentham and in the process became the first stakes winner for Impending (Lonhro) from 59 starters. The Tony Pike-trained filly had been an impressive first up winner at the track in October and went into her first stakes race as a warm favourite. Angled into a tight gap halfway up the home straight, Impendabelle burst between runners to hit the front at the 200 metres before drawing away to beat Believe In Magic (Not A Single Doubt) by three-quarters of a length. Dapper (Shooting To Win) finished third, another two and a half lengths away. Bred by the Smithies family under their Monovale Holdings banner, Impendabelle was an $80,000 purchase out of the Hallmark Stud draft during the Book 1 session at the New Zealand Bloodstock National Yearling Sale at Karaka back in March. A half-sister by So You Think (High Chaparral) will be offered as Lot 36 during the Book 1 sale at Karaka commencing on January 29. Dual Group 1 winner Impending stands at Darley's Northwood Park in Victoria for a fee of $22,000 (inc GST).

Kizuna - Shadai Stallion Station resident Kizuna (Deep Impact) sired his 19th individual stakes winner when Yoozuna (3 c ex Your Game by Montjeu) struck in the Prix Lyphard (Listed, 1900m) at Deauville. Trained by Christophe Ferland, the colt was winning for the third time in nine starts as he beat Dolayli (Siyouni) by a length and a quarter. Sundoro (Sea The Stars) finished another length and three-quarters away in third. Bred and raced by Wertheimer and Frere, Yoozuna is the third foal out of Your Game (Montjeu) making him a half-brother to the Listed winner Parafection (Mastercraftsman). Your Game herself is a half-sister to the Group 1 winner Polydream (Oasis Dream). Kizuna, who has had 451 starters, stands for a fee of ¥12,000,000 (approx. AU$129,500).

Liam's Map - Dr B (4 f ex Boleyn by Prod Citizen) proved to be too smart for her nine rivals when running out a clear-cut winner of the Go For Wand Stakes (Gr 3, 1m) at Aqueduct and in the process became the 15th individual stakes winner for Liam's Map (Unbridled's Song). The filly was scoring for the fifth time in 16 starts as she beat favourite Bank Sting (Central Banker) by four and a quarter lengths. Betsy Blue (Tonalist) finished third, eight lengths behind the winner. Trained by Butch Reid, Dr B is out of the Grade 2-placed Boleyn (Proud Citizen) who has five winners from six foals to race. Liam's Map, who has had 273 starters, will stand the 2023 northern hemisphere breeding season at Lane's End for a fee of US$40,000 (approx. AU$58,860).

Orfevre - Shadai's Orfevre (Stay Gold) sired his 24th individual stakes winner when his son Silver Sonic (6 h ex Air Thule by Tony Bin) struck in the Sho Stayers Stakes (Gr 2, 3600m) at Nakayama. Crossing the line three-quarters of a length in front of favourite Plume D'Or (Gold Ship), the result marked a return to form for the Yasutoshi Ikee-trained entire after he unseated his rider when upped in grade to contest the Tenno Sho (Spring) (Gr 1, 3200m) when last seen in action back in May. Divine Force (Workforce) finished third, two lengths behind the winner who was scoring for the fifth time in 20 starts. Out of the Grade 2 winner Air Thule (Tony Bin), Silver Sonic is a half-brother to, among others, Grade 1 winner Captain Thule (Agnes Tachyon) and the Grade 2 scorer Ultima Thule (Fuji Kiseki). Orfevre, who has had 624 starters, stands for a fee of ¥3,500,000 (approx. AU$38,350).

Satono Aladdin - Sacred Satono (3 c ex Belle Joie by Mellifont) became the second stakes winner for Satono Aladdin (Deep Impact) with a determined victory in the Bonecrusher Stakes (Gr 3, 1400m) at Pukekohe. The Bruce Wallace and Grant Cooksley-trained three-year-old was all out at the 200 metres before going on to beat The Intimidator (Toronado) by a quarter of a length. I'mintowin (Contributer) finished a further length and a half away in third. Out of the six-time winner Belle Joie (Mellifont), Sacred Satono was a $34,000 purchase by Wallace out of the Rich Hill Stud draft at Karaka in 2021. He becomes the second stakes winner from 130 starters for Satono Aladdin (Deep Impact), who has shuttled to Rich Hill Stud for four of the last five southern hemisphere breeding seasons.

Summer Front - Tequila Picante (2 c ex Tri Again by Creative Cause) provided Summer Front (War Front) with a 14th individual stakes winner when scoring in the Criterium di Pisa (Listed, 1500m) at Pisa. The Agostino Affe'-trained juvenile colt ran out a comfortable three and a half lengths victor over Saputello (Lord Chaparral) with a further nose back to Pallapannocchiesch (Bobby's Kitten) in third. Tequila Picante is the second foal out of the Creative Cause (Giant's Causeway) mare Tri Again, herself an unraced half-sister to Grade 3 winner Patton's Victory (Patton) and to the dam of Grade 2 winner Zivo (True Direction) and Grade 3 winner Beautiful Lover (Arch). Summer Front, who has had 240 starters, will stand the upcoming breeding season at Airdrie Stud for US$7,500 (approx. AU$11,010).

Tavistock - Kissinger (7 g Tavistock - Berlin Belle by Black Minnaloushe) became the 40th individual stakes winner for Tavistock (Montjeu) when landing the Pakenham Cup (Listed, 2500m). The Lindsey Smith-trained Kissinger drew away over the concluding stages to win by two lengths over Nobel Heights (Fiorente) with Vegas Knight (Declaration Of War) a half-neck away in third. Bred by Peter Setchell, Kissinger was purchased out of the Millfield Stud draft at the 2017 New Zealand Bloodstock Premier Sale at Karaka by trainer Nigel Tiley for NZ$52,500. Kissinger won two of his three starts for Tiley before being sent to the stable of Smith in 2020 where he now races in the colours of Spicer Thoroughbreds and has won another five races and just over $449,000 in prize-money. His granddam is the Dulcie Stakes (Gr 2, 1200m) winner Christiana Belle (Sackford). Tavistock, who has now had 696 starters, died in 2019.

Tourist - Wentru (4 c ex Wicked Temper by Tapit) provided Tourist (Tiznow) with a fifth individual stakes winner when dead-heating for first place in the Valedictory Stakes (Gr 3, 12f) at Woodbine. Trained by Martin Drexler, the four-year-old colt could not be separated from the Mark Casse-trained Grade 2 winner Who's The Star (Tonalist), with the pair just a neck clear of the third-placed English Conqueror (English Channel). Out of the winning Tapit (Pulpit) mare Wicked Temper, Wentru is a half-brother to three winners,

War Front

CLAIBORNE FARM

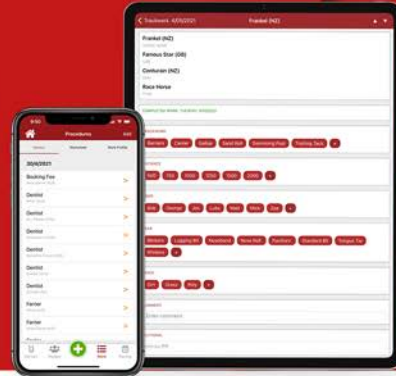

Mozu Eroico (Declaration Of War), Wicked Sensation (Drosselmeyer) and Burning Desire (Empire Maker). Tourist, who stood the 2022 northern hemisphere breeding season at WinStar Farm, will relocate to Rockridge Stud for the upcoming season. He will stand for US$3,500 (approx. AU$5,140) and has had 219 starters.

War Front - Liguria (2 f ex Leric by Woodman) became the 109th individual stakes winner for War Front (Danzig) when she took out the Jimmy Durante Stakes (Gr 3, 1m) at Del Mar. Following up her win in a Belmont maiden, the Chad Brown-trained juvenile finished two-and-a-quarter-lengths clear of runner-up Decorated My Life (Mehmas), who just got the better of Sell The Dream (Munnings) by a nose. Liguria became the third stakes winner for the Woodman (Mr. Prospector) mare Leric, who also produced two-time stakes winner Lira (Giant's Causeway). Liguria sold for US$250,000 at the 2020 Keeneland September Yearling Sale from the Gainesway consignment. War Front, who has had 758 starters, will stand the 2023 northern hemisphere breeding season at Claiborne Farm for a fee of US$100,000 (approx. AU$147,145).
